

How I balance

ROBIN LEVAN: Owner, Cyber Office Assistant, Westfield

WHAT I DO: Provide virtual office assistance from a home-based business

"Achieving a balance between a home business and family life is an ongoing process of juggling responsibilities. But there is nothing like it. How rewarding to be available for the children and grow an exciting business, increasing productivity and profitability in others at the same time. It is not easy doing both, but I am empowered by technology allowing me to have this opportunity."
